Excluding records to/from Konstantinou Developments, Canberra Town Planning and Trinity Law and records relating to the processing of another FOI request from Trinity Law

I am authorised under section 23 of the Cth FOI Act to make a decision on behalf of the Directorate in relation to your request.

You were notified that a decision on access to the documents would be provided to you by 19 September 2023.

Decision on access

Searches were completed and five records were identified that fall within the scope of your request.

Included as Attachment A to this decision is the schedule of relevant documents. This provides a description of each document and its access decision.

In summary, my decision is to release:

- one record in full;
- three records in part; and
- one record is withheld.

The documents released to you are provided as Attachment B to this letter.

My decision is explained in the following statement of reasons.

Material considered

In reaching my decision, I have taken the following into account:

- your FOI request;
- the records within scope of your request;
- the Cth FOI Act, particularly sections 3, 11, 11B, 12(1)(b), 22, 27, 27A, 42, 47F and 47G;
- the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth); and
- the FOI Guidelines issued under section 93A of the Cth FOI Act by the Australian Information Commissioner.

Reasons for decision

Some of the records contain information that is deemed to be exempt, or conditionally exempt and contrary to the public interest to release, under the Cth FOI Act. Where appropriate, the exempt or conditionally exempt information has been redacted, enabling the remainder of the record to be released.

Details of the exemption provision, together with my reasons for applying are set out below.

Exempt information

Some of the records contain information that is subject to legal professional privilege which is deemed exempt under section 42 of the Cth FOI Act. I am satisfied that the information is privileged because there is a legal adviser-client relationship, the communication between the parties was for the purpose of giving or receiving legal advice, the advice given was independent and confidential.

Conditionally exempt information

Redactions have been applied to information that is conditionally exempt and contrary to the public interest to release relating to records:

1. affecting personal privacy

Section 47F of the Cth FOI Act conditionally exempts (subject to a public interest test) records where disclosure would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information of a person. I have decided that this provision applies to all personal information affecting the privacy of individuals, and that it is not in the public interest to release the personal information of these individuals.

2. affecting business

Section 47G of the Cth FOI Act conditionally exempts (subject to a public interest test) records concerning the business, commercial or financial affairs of an organisation where the disclosure of the information could reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect on the organisation. I have decided that it is not in the public interest to release this information and therefore it has been redacted from the released records.

Your rights for review

My decision not to release all the information relevant to your request is subject to review under section 53A of the Cth FOI Act. It is also appealable if, in your opinion, you do not believe that all records relevant to your request in the possession of the Directorate have been located.

An information sheet outlining the review and appeal process provided for in the Cth FOI Act is attached to this letter.

Online publication

Section 11C of the Cth FOI Act requires that information made available to an applicant be published to members of the public generally on a website, subject to exceptions including for personal information and information relating to business affairs. The publication must occur within ten working days after the day the applicant is given access to the records.

Please contact the Directorate's FOI team on 02 6205 0720 or email EducationFOI@act.gov.au if you require any further information regarding your request.

Yours sincerely
