Hi Chris,
 After talking with multiple students, numerous times it was stated that the staff had a predetermined outcome. Please provide a time that I can meet you to discuss this and I request that you provide a copy in its entirety of all documents including communication of the Education directorate policy under which this process was taken, the records of the merits that the selection was made, the approval for deviation from the process set out within the curriculum framework, the results of voting undertaken by the students and evidence that the selections made were not predetermined by the school staff.

I await your reply,

[REDACTED]

To present the speech to [REDACTED] peers and then to several members of the leadership team, [REDACTED] demonstrated [REDACTED] growing leadership attributes. I wanted to email you to let you know how proud we are of [redacted] efforts and invite you to join us in congratulating [redacted], even though [redacted] didn't get elected for this role.
